Fire & Emergency Services Instructor II/III Course Materials

Thank you for deciding to continue your career in the Fire and Emergency Services Instructional community.

Please remember this program is an intensive four-week higher education course. To successfully complete this program, students should anticipate twelve to fifteen hours of additional reading, preparatory work and homework outside of the regularly scheduled class time each week.

Please bring your IFSTA Fire & Emergency Services Instructor 7th Edition Textbook, the same book issued in Instructor I. If you don't have the textbook, please contact the Program Coordinator so that one can be issued to you. Also bring writing utensils and something to write on each day of the program.

Attendance at ALL classes is required. If you must miss class dates within this course you should reconsider your attendance before the first day of class.

The dress code of the program is business casual. Since first impressions are a large part of teaching others, it is best to start off by putting your best foot forward. No jeans, t-shirts, shorts, sneakers, flip flops/sandals, sweatshirts/pants or hats are allowed.

If you have a laptop computer, you are encouraged to bring it with you. Wireless Internet access will be provided to all students.

Please bring a proposed or current educational project or program that you would either like to create or enhance. This project will be used extensively during the program.

Most importantly, please bring your willingness to learn and your commitment to self-improvement. We look forward to working with you.

Should you have any questions please contact the Program Coordinator.
